

Call for applications for organizing the International Youth Conference on Energetics 2011

The Student Association of Energy (SAE) at the Budapest University of Technology and Economics, the organizer of the International Youth Conference on Energetics 2007 and 2009 has decided to make IYCE a series of biannual meetings for young researchers in the topics of energetics. In 2009 the idea came up to celebrate IYCE every second time out of Hungary. Therefore we are searching for our partner to organize the event in 2011 with the following conditions:

- organizers of the IYCE 2011: local organizers together with the Student Association of Energy form the Organizing Committee
- use of the SAE copyrighted material (conference name, website, logo etc.) is allowed with permission of the SAE
- Honorary Chair and Scientific Committee members invited by both local organizers and SAE
- common finance of the conference

Do you think your place is excellent for this purpose? Are you attracted by the challenge of organizing an international scientific conference? Then please send your application to cselko.richard@eszk.org until December 31, 2009 containing:

- venue for technical and social programs, including estimated rental
- suggested members for the Scientific Committee and for the Honorary Chair
- accommodation possibilities, concerning that low price hotels are best suitable to for students
- travel possibilities (closest airport etc.)
- potential sponsors
- your experience in organization
- any ideas to make IYCE 2011 the best conference ever!
